2.1.6 Bereavement Leave

Policy Statement for St Joseph's Pre-school

Most people will experience the death of a person close to them (a bereavement) during their working lives.

Every person will deal with a death differently. St Joseph's Pre-school acknowledges the personal nature of bereavement and grief and is committed to supporting its staff in practical and reasonable ways. The Pre-school will:

- be sensitive to what each person might need at the time; and
- consider the person's physical and emotional wellbeing, including once they have returned to work.

During the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic, employees have the same rights to time off when someone dies.

When bereavement leave is taken – in which ever form – the individual's line manager will ensure that the Pre-school's committee is notified accordingly.

Paid leave

Bereavement leave is paid leave that allows an employee time off to deal with their personal distress and related practical arrangements, primarily, but not limited to, when a member of their family dies.

St Joseph's Pre-school acknowledges that bereavement impacts all individuals differently and the guidelines below are intended to show the minimum paid leave an employee is entitled to in different circumstances. St Joseph's Pre-school acknowledges that not all employees will need to take the full allowance, and some employees will need additional time, depending on their relationship with the person who has died and the circumstances of the death.

In the event of the death of an immediate relative, up to 10 working days paid leave in any one year may be granted.

- An immediate relative includes a spouse, civil partner or partner (including same sex partners) ¹, child² parent, step-parent, sibling or a person with whom the employee is in a relationship of domestic dependency.

Up to 5 Days leave may be allowed on the death of a mother/father-in-law, grandparents, grandchildren, and son/daughter in law.

¹ Partner includes someone with whom the employee is co-habiting but is not the employee's spouse or civil partner

² Child includes children in respect of whom the employee is the adoptive parent and legal guardians and carers

One Day of leave may be allowed on the death of an uncle/aunt to facilitate attendance at the funeral but up to 5 days may be granted in line with travel needs set out below.

It is recognised that members of staff who suffer a bereavement of an immediate relative who lives abroad may require more than 5 days bereavement leave in order to travel. In such cases, the line manager may authorise, after discussion with the Chair of St Joseph's Pre-school committee, additional days of bereavement leave.

In exceptional circumstances, up to 5 days leave may be granted on the death of someone who is not an immediate relative. These circumstances would include (but are not limited to) situations where the employee is responsible for funeral arrangements and has to undertake significant travel arrangements either in the UK or abroad.

In all such cases stated in this policy, the line manager may authorise, after discussion with the Chair of St Joseph's Pre-school committee, the additional days of bereavement leave.

An employee should notify their line manager of their need to take leave as soon as possible or, at latest, on the first day of absence. In exceptional circumstances, applications for leave will be considered after the first day of absence. Line managers have the right to exercise discretion in exceptional circumstances as outlined above. Leave days do not have to be taken consecutively.

Bereavement whilst on holiday

Employees of St Joseph's Pre-school work term time only, as such if an employee suffers a family bereavement whilst on holiday then no bereavement leave entitlement exists. Bereavement leave may only be granted during term time, whilst at work in line with the guidance above.

Where there is an overlap in any holiday and term time, then it must be discussed with the line manager and the Chair of St Joseph's Pre-school committee, who will decide the number of days permitted.

Parental bereavement leave and pay when a child dies

St Joseph's Pre-school employees have a statutory³ right to Parental Bereavement Leave and Pay for parents who lose a child under the age of 18, including those who suffer a stillbirth from 24 weeks of pregnancy. The death or stillbirth must have happened on or after 6 April 2020.

Eligible parents (i.e. employees) have a right to 2 weeks⁴:

- Statutory Parental Bereavement Leave, if they are an employee; and/or
- Statutory Parental Bereavement Pay, if they are an employee or worker.

This right applies to the:

- biological parent;
- adoptive parent, if the child was living with them;
- person who lived with the child and had responsibility for them, for at least 4 weeks before they died;
- 'intended parent' – due to become the legal parent through surrogacy; and
- partner of the child's parent, if they live with the child and the child's parent in an enduring family relationship.

³ 'Statutory' means the legal minimum an employer must give

Parental bereavement leave

St Joseph's Pre-school employees have a right to take Statutory Parental Bereavement Leave if:

- they are classed as an employee⁵;
- their child dies under the age of 18 or is stillborn after 24 weeks' pregnancy

Pre-school employees have this right from the day they start their job.

- This leave can be taken in the 56 weeks following their child's death.
- If more than 1 child dies, the employee is entitled to 2 weeks' Statutory Parental Bereavement Leave for each child.

Anyone classed as a worker⁶ is not entitled to Statutory Parental Bereavement Leave. But they may be entitled to 2 weeks' Statutory Parental Bereavement Pay for time they take off.

An employee can choose to take either 1 or 2 weeks' leave. If an employee takes 2 weeks, this can be taken in one go, or as 2 separate weeks. The leave must end within 56 weeks of the child's death. The date of the child's death is the first day of the 56 weeks.

St Joseph's Pre-school member of staff must inform their line manager (ie. give 'notice'⁷) to use Statutory Parental Bereavement Leave advising:

- when they want to start the leave;
- whether they want to take 1 or 2 weeks leave; and
- the date their child died.

There are certain rules for giving notice dependent on how long it has been since the child died. Please refer to www.gov.uk. Proof of death or stillbirth is not required.

Parental bereavement pay

Employees and workers are entitled to 2 weeks' Statutory Parental Bereavement Pay if:

- their child dies under the age of 18 or is stillborn after 24 weeks' of pregnancy;
- they were employed when their child died;
- they had worked for their employer for at least 26 weeks, on the Saturday before the child's death; and/or
- they earn on average at least £120 per week, before tax.

Statutory Parental Bereavement Pay is the minimum amount St Joseph's Pre-school must pay eligible staff. Thus, eligible employees and works will get one of the following, whichever is the lower:

- £151.97 a week; or
- 90% of their average weekly earnings.

This money will be paid the same way as your wage, i.e. Monthly, along with deductions for tax and National Insurance.

Employees and workers must ask St Joseph's Pre-school in writing (give 'notice') to receive Statutory Parental Bereavement Pay. They must confirm:

⁵ They have an employment contract formed when they accepted the job

⁶ Employment is more casual. They have a contract for services to do work for a payment/reward. The individual has very little obligation to receive or do work (eg. a zero hours contract when you are offered work on an 'as and when' basis), but should do the work you agree to.

⁷ By phone, leave a voicemail, send a text message or an email

- their name;
- their entitlement to Statutory Parental Bereavement Pay;
- the start and end dates of the leave they want to claim the pay for;
- the date of their child's death; and
- their relationship with the child.

Notice must be given within 28 days of starting leave. If an employee takes the 2 weeks off separately, they must give notice in writing for each week.

Employees can give notice for their leave and pay in one document.

An employee's employment rights are protected whilst on Parental Bereavement Leave, i.e. pay rises and return to work.

Unpaid leave

Unpaid leave on compassionate grounds up to a maximum of 28 days may be granted after bereavement. An employee must consult with their line manager before starting unpaid leave.

Return to work

In certain circumstances a full return to work may not be possible for an employee following the death of an immediate relative – for example, when the employee's grief is likely to impact on their ability to perform their role, or where new child care arrangements have to be sourced or responsibility for the care of an elderly parent has transferred to the employee.

In such instances St Joseph's Pre-school will allow a phased return to work on a reduced hour's basis where practicable. Alternative duties may also be considered. Any such arrangement would need to be agreed in advance by the line manager, would be subject to an agreed maximum number of days and would be managed in line with St Joseph's Pre-school's Sickness and Absence policy⁸.

Employee support

St Joseph's Pre-school acknowledges that bereavement leave is intended to support employees in the immediate period around the death of a relative. However, the process of grief, the natural reaction and adjustment to loss and change may take a significant time and will be personal to each individual.

An employee with any concerns about the grieving process impacting on their work performance should discuss this in confidence with their line manager, to ensure that any reasonable adjustments that may be necessary are discussed and put in place and that the employee is supported in their return to the full range of duties and responsibilities that they had prior to the bereavement or their duties and responsibilities are adjusted (as necessary) with the prior agreement of line manager.

St Joseph's Pre-school recognises that the majority of people do not require counselling to cope effectively with their grief. However, for employees wishing to avail themselves of professional help in coming to terms with a significant loss, the Pre-school will support the individual by giving [paid/unpaid] time off to attend counselling sessions if they occur during working hours. This needs to be discussed with their line manager prior to the first session.

⁸ Policy 2.1.3

Health and safety

Bereavement can have an impact on concentration, sleep, and decision-making. A risk assessment will be undertaken to consider the impact of bereavement on the individual, their duties and responsibilities, and impact on their fellow workers. This will be completed in the 'return to work' meeting, with input from the individual and line manager.

Any employee who is concerned about their ability to conduct their duties safely in the weeks following a bereavement must discuss this with their line manager.

Culture and diversity

St Joseph's Pre-school recognises that different cultures respond to death in significantly different ways.

Line managers will check whether the employee's religion or culture requires them to observe any particular practices or make special arrangements which would necessitate them being off work at a particular time. Employees should not assume that their line manager is aware of any such requirements and should draw this to their line manager's attention as soon as possible.

Line managers who are unsure of how to respond to a bereaved employee from a different culture should ask the bereaved employee or someone else from their cultural group about what is appropriate.
